Located in the heart of an authentic Perigordian market town, this 19th-century mansion has been tastefully converted into a charming hotel. Sitting on the riverbank of the Vézère, near the famous Unesco World Heritage prehistoric site that attracts thousands of visitors annually; this 3-star hotel offers the best of both worlds: tucked away far enough to be a peaceful getaway, but within easy walking distance to all the town's amenities.

With its quirky and eclectic rooms, this charming hotel with 14 bedrooms, a large 2-bedroom apartment and a separate owners house has garnered some excellent national and international reviews over the years. The large and well-maintained garden accommodates a large swimming pool and a fish-pond fed by the natural water source present on the grounds. A small stone-built gazebo at the end of the grounds could be developed as a wedding chapel.

Ground Floor

- Original large stone stairs lead to front entrance of the hotel and into the lobby (21 sqm) with its original 14th-century stone floor that has been magnificently restored and maintained.
